Shaping Privacy Policy and Legislation in Higher Education

This webinar is part of the EDUCAUSE Industry & Campus Solutions series.

Sponsored by

- Spirion is recognized as the leader in accurate data discovery, purposeful persistent classification, and intelligent remediation of sensitive data across the enterprise. Since 2006, thousands of organizations worldwide have deployed Spirion to identify sensitive data in their possession and reduce the volume of that data to proactively minimize exposure to an increasingly complex risk landscape.
- Today, thanks to the extensibility and scalability inherent in the company’s SaaS-based Sensitive Data Platform, Spirion customers now have access to selection of built-for-purpose suites that allow users to prioritize security, compliance, or privacy based on organizational requirements.

Moderated by

- Educause is a nonprofit association whose mission is to advance higher education through the use of information technology. We equip our community with the knowledge, resources, and community-building opportunities needed to help shape strategic IT decisions at every level in higher education.
- We welcome diversity—in viewpoints and experience—and believe in the transformative power of uncommon thinking for the common good.

Huron design, delivers, and operates technology and business process solutions, including expertise in information technology service management, information security, and IT organizational strategic planning.

2 By Spirion LLC All Rights Reserved. Proprietary & Confidential. Do not distribute.
Q1

How can leaders protect and legitimize the use of data effectively for students, staff and administrators?
Q2

What recommendations do you have for protecting privacy using universal frameworks and providing transparency for all stakeholders?

Q3

With today’s existing and anticipated state & federal data privacy regulations, how can leaders become involved in shaping privacy policy and legislation?
Thank you!

Questions?
Let's open it up for Q&A!

Access our resource toolkit:
https://explore.spirion.com/l/spirion-huron