ELI Online Event

The Active Learning Classroom: Directions and Impacts

November 28, 2017

https://events.educause.edu/eli/focus-sessions/2017/the-active-learning-classroom-directions-and-impacts

Hosts

Malcolm Brown,
Director, EDUCAUSE Learning Initiative

D. Christopher Brooks,
Director of Research, EDUCAUSE
Today, we’ll explore

- A look back and a look ahead with respect to teaching in an ALC;
- The evidence at hand about the effectiveness of the ALC;
- Common challenges in teaching in ALC and approaches to meeting them;
- Ways to assess the impact of your ALCs; and
- Summing up and commentary with Julie Johnston and Adam Finkelstein
Getting Ready in 3 Easy Steps

Step 1
Review the online agenda and become familiar with the full program.

Step 2
Review ALL of the technical requirements. Registered participants may also join the event by using the Adobe Connect mobile app (found on iTunes or Google Play). Note: Some features may be limited. Review the Readiness Checklist to make sure you are set to participate.

Step 3
Review the Activity Workbook to participate in all the activities and the companion Resource List that includes websites, research reports, books, and articles related to the topic.

Review the Resource List
https://tinyurl.com/eliALCresources

Download the Activity Workbook
https://tinyurl.com/eliALCworkbook
Review the Activity Workbook

https://tinyurl.com/eliALCworkbook

2 Activity Tracks: Choose 1

Track 1: Innovations and Practice
“"... what adjustments would you make, either to the way you teach or how you support instructors or faculty teaching, while using an active learning approach?"

https://tinyurl.com/eliALCtrack1

Track 2: Measuring the Impact of ALCs “"... develop a plan to measure the impact of an active learning space either you, an instructor, or faculty member you support, will be teaching in.”

https://tinyurl.com/eliALCtrack2
1. Go to https://tinyurl.com/eliALCactivity

2. Pick one of the 2 tracks

3. Submit your responses by 12/1/17

4. NO team responses for these activities, please use one form per individual registrant.

"Live" sessions in Adobe Connect

All session segments are recorded and available for future use

https://events.educause.edu/elifocus-sessions/2017/the-active-learning-classroom-directions-and-impacts/agenda
Interact via Twitter
http://twitter.com/EDUCAUSELI

Tag your posts with #elifocus
Technical Difficulties

Send a private message to “Technical Help” in the chat window.